

Solid steel doors are the most cost effective way to secure an enclosure when front and rear ventilation is not required.

Steel doors come with a standard lockable swing handle latch and lift off left hand hinges as a default, right hand hinging available. For secure and ventilated solutions, solid steel doors offer a quality addition to your server rackmount enclosure at a low cost.